

LEARNING EXPERIENCE BRIEF

JA Personal Finance®

■ Financial Literacy

JA Personal Finance introduces teens and young adults to the interrelationship between today's financial decisions and future financial freedom. To achieve financial health and wellness, participants learn about money-management strategies, including earning, employment and income, budgeting, savings, credit and debt, consumer protection, smart shopping, risk management, and investing.

Participants also explore how their decisions can affect other people with whom they have relationships and explore and practice healthy behaviors to discuss and manage shared financial decisions. At the conclusion of this program, participants will identify how their personal finances affect their quality of life. They will understand how their financial choices will be the basis for meeting their needs and wants.

This learning experience is part of the JA Financial Literacy Pathway and can be placed in Grades 9–12 and post-high school. The program may receive 5 or more ICH based on delivery and completion of the optional content. The program is primarily volunteer-led with options for self-guided sessions/activities.

CURRICULUM OUTLINE

1 Session One: Earning, Employment, and Income (volunteer-led)

Participants learn that healthy personal finances require planning and managing. They begin to analyze the financial implications of their educational and career choices as a basis for understanding the relationship between earnings

LEARNING EXPERIENCE HIGHLIGHTS

- Digital Guide on the Side for volunteers and teachers to effectively manage remote or virtual delivery
- Infusion of healthy financial relationships concepts, discussion, and talking points
- Eight 45-minute sessions: Sessions One through Five are required and volunteer-led. Sessions Six through Eight are optional and designed to be participant self-guided activities with teacher or volunteer support.
- Three optional modules focusing on credit cards, debt management, and net worth and personal finance. Participants also explore how their decisions can affect other people with whom they have relationships and practice using healthy behaviors to discuss shared financial decisions.

JA Personal Finance

2 Session Two: Budgeting (volunteer-led)

Participants investigate the importance of budgeting and staying within a budget. They review characteristics of a healthy relationship and explore how shared budgeting creates opportunities to talk about equality, independence, and respect.

3 Session Three: Savings (volunteer-led)

Participants analyze the role that saving plays in their personal finances. They explore how having a healthy savings plan is necessary in all phases of life but is especially critical for big-ticket items and emergencies. Participants learn how to apply communication strategies when discussing financial issues.

4 Session Four: Credit and Debt (volunteer-led)

Participants analyze the importance of credit and the outcomes of wise and poor use of credit. They examine the potential consequences of sharing credit or cosigning for loans.

5 Session Five: Consumer Protection (volunteer-led)

Participants explore consumer protection basics, including how to avoid scams, manage their money, use credit and loans carefully, and protect their personal information. They learn some of the risks associated with sharing finances with others.

6 Session Six: Smart Shopping

This optional, self-guided activity focuses on making informed purchasing decisions to maximize buying power. Participants learn about comparison shopping and participate in a simulated shopping experience. They explore communicating with other people about consumer behaviors and shared shopping. A volunteer or the teacher can introduce and wrap up the session.

7 Session Seven: Risk Management

This optional, self-guided activity focuses on risks that can lead to financial loss. Participants practice applying appropriate risk management strategies in scenarios and learn how to discuss risk management and manage the risks associated with shared financial choices. A volunteer or the teacher can introduce and wrap up the session.

8 Session Eight: Investing

This optional, self-guided activity explores the difference between saving and investing, the advantages and potential returns of investing, and common types of investment products. Participants also learn about various types of investment risks and self-assess their personal investment risk tolerance and communication with others about shared investments. A volunteer or the teacher can introduce and wrap up the session.